

Daniel the Super Human and the Cheetah

I have some good news to tell you. I am Daniel the Super Human and I keep cheetahs from going extinct.

One day a female cheetah was trying to sneak up on a wildebeest. Just then a hunter came and shot one of the cheetah's spots out. This did not kill the cheetah but it hurt her.

The hunter walked toward the cheetah to get her. So, I jumped on the hunter and fought with him. Can you guess what happened?

I caught the hunter and took him to jail.

Then, I took the cheetah to the Ranger Station. The Ranger and I put the cheetah in a cage so she would not run around and hurt herself. The cheetah was hungry so we fed her a Thompson's Gazelle.

Soon the veterinarian arrived. I told the vet to take a little cheetah spot from my basket. I carry spots for leopards, jaguars and cheetahs too. I helped her put a cheetah spot on the cheetah.

When the cheetah was better the ranger let the cheetah go. Hooray! Daniel the Super Human saved the cheetah.
