

Virtual Educator Trainings

Join WXXI Education and New York State Department of Environmental Conservation (NYSDEC) for 2 educator trainings using tools and resources from the new PBS series, the Age of Nature. We will also be sharing resources available from NYSDEC and other public media partners that are appropriate to support the conversation around conservation, sustainability, nature-rebounding, and more. To learn more about the Age of Nature series and when to watch, visit: bit.ly/WXXIAgeOfNature

When: 2 identical trainings on (1) Tuesday, October 13 at 4 p.m. ET, (2) Wednesday, October 21 at 4 p.m. ET

Where: Virtual! (Participants will receive the log-in information via email once registered)

Who: The event is open to any educators working with middle and high school students. Educators include: classroom teachers, school support staff, after-school and out-of-school staff, librarians, home-schooling adults, etc.

CTLE Credit: Participants will receive 2 hrs of NYS CTLE credits. Participants must complete both the training survey and CTLE form to receive credit.

To register : bit.ly/AONEducatorTrainings

Department of Environmental Conservation

WXXI
Education